School Grade Entering in Fall

What are some accomplishments you have already achieved? These can be academic, athletic, volunteer or personal achievements.

What ways do you think you can best contribute to the world in general, your family, friends, community and/or potential employers?

Looking many years into the future (say when you're about age 30), where do you want to be career-wise? In other words, what do you see yourself doing? If you can't think of anything, list a few things that may interest you.

Looking even farther into the future (about age 70), what do you want to have achieved? How do you want others to remember you?
